2022 ConEd Scholarships for Earth & Environmental Sciences
Applications deadline: January 31, 2022

Funded by the generous gift from Consolidated Edison to the Queens College Foundation, The School of Earth & Environmental Sciences at Queens College, CUNY solicits applications for 2022 ConEd Scholarships in Earth & Environmental Sciences.

These 15 scholarships are available to SEES undergraduate majors and SEES Master’s degree students. A summary of the awards offered in 2022 is below.

Each award has its own application and link below

Eligibility
1. Current QC major in Geology, Environmental Science, or Environmental Studies and/or MA/MS student in SEES
2. A cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher at QC, with a minimum of 12 cred. at QC (undergrad) or 6 cr. at QC (grad)
3. Completed application which includes a statement (<200 words) of how this scholarship will help enable your professional goals in the Geosciences and Environmental Sciences.
4. Students must be enrolled at least part-time for the Spring 2022 semester to receive scholarship funds
5. Limit of 1 scholarship award per student; students may apply for more than 1 scholarship.

For Intern-based scholarships:
6. Applicants for internship-based scholarships must have a specific internship identified (135 total hours minimum) and be able to provide evidence of the potential position (i.e., advertisement or email job description from employer) with their scholarship application.
Preference will go to unpaid internship applicants. Awards for intern-based scholarships will be awarded after the internship secured by the applicant.
